

MAIL ROUTE.

RESOLUTION

OF

THE LEGISLATURE OF GEORGIA,

RELATIVE TO

A change in the mail route from Dublin to Boxville.

MARCH 13, 1848.

Referred to the Committee on the Post Office and Post Roads, and ordered to be printed.

IN HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Whereas the mail route from Dublin to Boxville, in Montgomery county, Georgia, is partly on both sides of the Oconee river, and the post offices on said route are at least eighteen miles from many of the citizens:

Be it therefore resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Georgia in General Assembly met, That our Senators and Representatives in Congress be respectfully requested to exert themselves to have the said mail route so far changed as to run from Boxville up to Dublin on the west side of the Oconee river, thence down from Dublin to Boxville on the east side of the Oconee river.

Read and agreed to December 6, 1847.

CHARLES J. JENKINS,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
A. F. OWEN,
Clerk of the House of Representatives.

In Senate, concurred in, December 10, 1847.

ANDREW J. MILLER,
President of the Senate.
WM. H. CRAWFORD,
Secretary of the Senate.

Assented to, 15th December, 1847.

GEO. W. TOWNS, Governor.

SECRETARY OF STATE'S OFFICE, GEORGIA,
Milledgeville, February 10, 1848.

The above is a true and correct copy of the original, filed in this office.
Given under my hand and seal of office.
